CAMPING IN THE BIC HORN BASIN

Under Way.

A Good Climate, with Pienty of Land and Water-Not a Case of Sickness in the Colony, So Far.

Lovell, Bighorn Co., Wyo., July 25. Although there are over 400 people here camping out in tents, there is not one case of sickness in the colony. Several ladies who were in very poor bealth when they came here are gaining in strength every day; they are beginning to feel as though they were having a new lease on life.

We have two stores besides the commissary where the people can buy almost anything they need, as cheap almost as it can be got in Salt Lake City. We have petitioned the general postmaster at Washington, D. C., for a postoffice. We have a daily mail running now at our own expense.

We are taking out a canal from the Shoshone river which will be about thirty miles long, it is fifteen feet wide op, it is intended to carry a depth of our fact of water. It covers 18,000 acres of fine looking land. A person can travel for miles and not see a rock larger than a hen's egg. President Sessions, Navill Berry and I measured the river on 23rd ult. We found that its average width was 106 feet and the average depth was 3 feet flowing at the rate of 62-3 feet per second. has an average fall of 32 feet to the

CLIMATE,

The climate is a good climate; I areen any frost since I came here. A old wave swept over the basin on June 18. Most of the men worked on the canal with their oats on in the afternoon. We all hought there would be frost next orning, but to our surprise there was one. On the 22nd alt I visited some of the gardens along the river, but the frost had done no damage. Some few potato leaves singed very slightly where they were very dry. It never touched a tomato or bean vine. I bought potatoes for $1.25 per hundred pounds, they are as fine potatoes as I ver ate. A man came to our camp out two weeks ago to sell potatoes ind beans. He informed us that he aised 110 bushels of the latter on one cre, and they were fine beans, too. The land we are working for is locatd on benches ranging in size from 5,000 o 10,000 acres to a bench, and they slope to the south and west. We ex-pect to have the water on the first bench in about four or five weeks. There are about 5,000 acres on that made the first three miles, then they divided into two camps, one camp continuing on with the canal the other go-ing on to the first bench and starting there and working up. At this date the two camps are only about a mile apart. It is expected when they meet that there will be a jollification, as the backbone of the thing will be broken.

TIMBER FACILITIES.

Four experienced men went to look up the timber. They were gone five lays and prespected the mountains to he south of here, up the river. They ound plenty of good timber 35 mile from ere; they call it bird's eye ine, red and white fir. The timber anges from the size of a pole to a saw og two and a half feet through. There very few limbs on it and it holds size well. There is a good road to but the prospectors say that the oshone is a good river to float timber wn. So we think that the colony will at their timber down the river and own the canal to the town. A Mr. Black, who has a farm about mlle from where we are at work, says nat he has planted alfalfa seed in the oring and cut two good crops from it ne first year. He has tomatoes growgarden. The tomatoes are already rger than a hen's egg. He has a fine rop of peas which are ripe. I bought ome fine potatoes last week from him and they are almost ripe now. He has a good crop of wheat and oats.

NO MORE WINDY THAN UTAH.

Some people condemn this country on secount of so much wind, but I have not seen any heavier winds since I came here than I have seen in Utah. It hardly ever rains here and the ground is very dry so when the wind blows there is a great deal of dust flying which makes it seem to blow harder than it really does.

OLD SALT LAKER FROM COLORADO

Prodigious Irrigating Canal Project | Describes Conditions at Mancos, Montezuma County.

ROOM FOR THE INDUSTRIOUS | GOOD PLACE FOR FAMILIES

Plenty of Building Material, Coal, Grain, Flour, Hay and Other Necessaries.

Mr. W. W. White, who formerly was a citizen of Sait Lake, but who for the past thirteen years has been a resident of Mancos, Montezuma county, Colorado, made a very pleasant call upon the "News" today. In the course of a conversation upon the condition of the country where he now resides, Mr. White said:

"Our county is in the southwest corner of the State of Colorado, Cortez being the principal town. We are following our old tradition of first raising lowing our old tradition of first raising something to eat, although we have some very fine mining prospects. We raise wheat, oats, rye, bariey and alfalfa in plenty and the crops of all otherse will this year be quite up to the average, although there is now a scarcity of water. During the first part of the season there was plenty of water but it has dwindled away considerably but it has dwindled away considerably by this time. As in Utah, the water supply is dependent upon the snowfall although there are a number of spring supplying the Mancos river and the river bed always contains some water

"As to our mines, they are some very good prospects about twelve miles away from Mancos and last fall there was wagon road constructed to them. T nen who own the prospects, however re in the main financially unable t velop their properties as rapidly as ey may desire, but they will certain turn out well when properly worker Our country is especially favorab o the homeseeker, for we have land rater, stone, brick clay, timber, coal

tc. Coal is delivered in Mancos for 2.50 per ton, and splendid coal at that. here are four saw mills in the immediate vicinity of Mancos and they do a iderable business.

"The 'Mormon' community there is building a stone meeting house 30 by 60 feet inside, and it will doubtless be finshed this year. Bishop George Halls is proving the right man in the right place, as the people all feel well towards him and between themselves. Good health prevails, and I might add that we have from for some more good feet. we have room for some more good fam-llies down there."
